

Aloha!

I'm a senior living in Hawaii. I depend on the Postal Service for many things, not the least of which is my medications. There are so many things I can't get locally and I order them and they come by mail.

I'm hearing that there will be even less service that will cost more in the near future and I beg you to reconsider. The Postal Service is NOT a monopoly. If I wish to spend more, I can send a letter or parcel by UPS or FedEx. Unfortunately, on my limited income, this isn't feasible.

Please save the Postal Service from those who would wish to destroy it.

Thank you!

Jean Simon
